Well, for my part, I would just like to say...
that as the new guy taking over for you...
I hope I can fill your shoes...
because from the looks of the people here...
and what they think about you, they seem awfully big.
As most of you know, I just moved here recently...
from Des Moines with my wife Patty here...
and Kimberly our 14-month-old...
and you all have made us feel so welcome.
Warren, I want you to feel just as welcome...
to drop by the office to visit any time you want.
As we've been discussing the last couple of weeks...
I might have some questions about our various products...
like the universal life policy we're launching next month.
And...
Anyway, here's to you, Warren.
Warren...
how do you feel about these young punks taking our jobs?
Seems like some kind of conspiracy to me.
I've known Warren here...
probably longer than most of you have been alive.
Warren and I go way back...
way back...
to the horse and buggy days at Woodmen.
But that's ancient history.
Anyway, I know something about retirement...
and what I want to say to you out loud, Warren...
so all these young hotshots can hear...
is that all those gifts over there...
don't mean a Goddamn thing.
And this dinner doesn't mean a Goddamn thing.
And the Social Security and pension...

With the coming of the Second World War...
...many eyes in imprisoned Europe turned hopefully, or desperately...
...toward the freedom of the Americas.
Lisbon became the great embarkation point.
But not everybody could get to Lisbon directly.
And so a torturous, roundabout refugee trail sprang up.
Paris to Marseilles...
...across the Mediterranean to Oran.
Then, by train or auto or foot, across the rim of Africa...
...to Casablanca in French Morocco.
Here, the fortunate ones, through money or influence or luck...
...might obtain exit visas and scurry to Lisbon.
And from Lisbon to the New World.
But the others wait in Casablanca.
And wait and wait...
...and wait.
To all officers:
Two German couriers carrying official documents murdered on train from Oran.
Murderer and possible accomplices headed for Casablanca.
Round up all suspicious characters and search them for stolen document.
Important.
May we see your papers?
I don't think I have them on me.
- In that case, you'll have to come along.
- Wait. It's possible that I...
Yes. Here they are.
These papers expired three weeks ago.
You'll have to come along.
Halt!
Halt!
- What on earth is going on there?
- I don't know, my dear.
